HE SANK RAPIDLY.

At One Time Friday Afternoon it Was Feared Senator Hanna Was Dying.

HE RALLIED STRONGLY, HOWEVER.

Again There is Some Hope He May Recover But the Odds Are Against Him.

The Acute Attack Came in the Form of a Chill and the Senator Laid in An Unconscious Condition For Some Hours.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Senator Hanna is passing through the climax of his illness and Friday afternoon it was feared he was dying, but Friday night he rallied strongly and there is again some hope that he yet may win the forlorn fight. The odds are much against his recovery, but the sturdy physique of the man aided by oxygen and powerful stimulants brought him through Friday afternoon when he was sinking rapidly and possibly may again. It is now a question how long the climax of the fever will last and how many and severe will be any further acute attacks, for Friday's spell was so severe that another probably would witness the end. Friday's acute attack came in the form of a chill about 2 o'clock and not long afterward Senator Hanna passed into unconsciousness not to return again until around 6 o'clock. His pulse at this time ran up to 130 and was so feeble it was not perceptible at the wrist. Three hours or so later, however, he had shaken off the attack to so great an extent that Dr. Osler, the Baltimore physician in attendance, came from the sick room at 9:35 o'clock and said there had been a decided improvement and that the patient's pulse was much stronger and had fallen nearly 20 points.

Miss Mary Phelps, the senator's niece, was near at hand when the doctor came from the sick room, and when she heard the announcement of the rally she asked: "Then you have hope, doctor?"

"Hope!" the doctor replied; "of course there is hope. When a man rallies from a sinking spell such as the senator had and showed such strength afterward there is the best ground for hope."

The first intimation from the sick room in the Arlington hotel Friday showed the fever to have attained the highest point yet reached and the doctors looked for the senator's temperature to be at its worst during the following 48 hours, but it unexpectedly lowered as the day wore on and developments seemed more favorable. About 2 o'clock in the afternoon, however, the high fever was succeeded by a sudden chill which resulted in an alarming complication. Powerful stimulants were promptly applied. For two hours and a half oxygen was applied continuously and later more irregularly as its good effects began to manifest themselves. At one time during the sinking spell the pulse was scarcely perceptible at the wrist. The senator lapsed into unconsciousness with the sinking spell.

Dr. Carter was alone with him at the beginning of the attack, but Drs. Osler and Rixey were summoned immediately and on their arrival the three worked incessantly with their patient until the reaction came late in the afternoon. Prior to the sinking spell saline solutions were given and strychnine in 1-30 grain doses were administered, but much more heroic remedies were resorted to during the period of the acute attack. In the forenoon the senator had been well enough to be shaved, he making the request to his brother, H. M. Hanna.

The first indication outside the sick room that Senator Hanna's condition had taken a turn for the worse was when a messenger was rushed in great haste to a drug store. It became known speedily that he had gone for oxygen. Mrs. Hanna was out driving at the time, but when she returned she was promptly advised of the change that had taken place during her brief absence, and hurried to the bedside of her husband, where she remained constantly throughout the period of greatest danger. As the messenger was hastened from the hotel for oxygen Miss Phelps, the senator's niece, came hurriedly into the lobby of the hotel and summoned H. M. Hanna, a brother, to the apartments upstairs. She remained and sent some dispatches. The news quickly spread that the senator was in a sinking condition and the number of callers and inquiries which had come in greater number Friday than at any time previous were vastly augmented.

At 11 o'clock Drs. Rixey, Osler and Carter issued the following bulletin about Senator Hanna:

"At 11 o'clock the senator has reacted from the chill and depression. Temperature 101, pulse 120, respiration 32. He is quietly resting."

At 3 a. m. Saturday the senator's secretary said Mr. Hanna was still sleeping. Dr. Eutcher, he reported, did not look for any change before morning, though the patient's temperature might rise from time to time, in which case it would be reduced by sponge baths.

PRIVATE PENSION BILLS.

The House Broke All Records in Disposing of Them.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Senate—The senate Friday listened to the reading by Mr. Carmak of a speech prepared by Mr. Morgan in opposition to the president's policy with reference to an isthmian canal and also considered the bill appropriating $200,000 to ex-Queen Liliuokalani, of Hawaii. Speeches in support of the bill were made by Mr. Blackburn and Mr. Mitchell and in opposition by Mr. Spooner and Mr. Platt (Ct.). Mr. Spooner moved to recommend the measure, but the vote on this motion failed to develop a quorum, so the senate was forced to adjourn until Monday.

House—Speaker Cannon took the bit in his teeth and ran completely away with legislative precedent in the house. Incidentally he broke all previous records in the dispatch of private pension bills. Under his guidance 320 of these measures of relief were passed by the house in 155 minutes. Nearly the whole of this time was consumed in committee of the whole. The house passed the bills "en bloc" under unanimous consent, which the speaker had asked for. About half of the bills were disposed of under this request without amendment. When objection was temporarily made the speaker plainly showed his displeasure by dragging the proceedings. The objection was withdrawn, whereupon the remaining bills were declared passed without even the formality of having the clerk read their numbers. Adjourned until Monday.

SECRETARY HAY'S NOTE.

Russia Is Evidently Not Prepared to Answer at This Time.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 13.—Russia is evidently not prepared at this time to give an answer to the United States to Secretary Hay's note on the subject of the neutrality of China. As previously stated in these dispatches hostilities having begun, the military authorities must be consulted and the czar doubtless will refer the matter to Viceroy Alexieff if he has not already done so. Russia, it can be said, is certainly as anxious as the United States that the war cause no risings or disorders in China; indeed, the attitude of China is already causing some misgivings here, as she has not yet declared her neutrality.

It is thought here that the action of the Japanese in flooding Peking with posters relating to their victories is part of a well-laid campaign projected from the beginning to break down Russia's prestige in China for the purpose of ultimately effecting the union of the two races, which would make the "yellow peril" a reality.

Russia has already learned of the position taken by several powers regarding Secretary's note.

Germany and Great Britain, it is understood, both express sympathy with its purpose, but with an important reservation concerning Manchuria, which is now the theater of war. Germany's views in this respect were anticipated, but Great Britain's failure to give Secretary Hay unqualified support has caused surprise here.

London, Feb. 13.—Ambassador Choate attended the meeting of the Royal Astronomical society for the purpose of receiving the society's gold medal on behalf of Prof. George Ellery Hale, director of the Yerkes observatory, Chicago.

OMINOUS SILENCE.

Very Little News is to Be Had of War in the Far East.

PRESUMED THE CENSOR IS AT WORK

This Has Given Rise to the Belief That Important Events Are Taking Place.

The Japs Will Bring Into Use a New Explosive, Which is Alleged to Be More Powerful Than Any Hitherto Discovered.

London, Feb. 13.—Silence has fallen over the far east. Not a word of news is to be had here except the report given out at the Japanese legation of the shelling of two Japanese merchant vessels by four Russian warships, and the report from Viceroy Alexieff of the blowing up of the Russian torpedo transport Yenisei.

This long silence has given rise to the belief that important events are transpiring.

A dispatch to the Daily Mirror from Tokio says that the Japanese have blown up a portion of the Siberian railroad, but this is probably only a repetition of previous similar reports.

The Daily Mail learns the Japanese will bring into use a new explosive, which is alleged to be more powerful than any hitherto discovered.

It is announced that the imperial bank of Russia at St. Petersburg has raised the rates of discount one per cent.

The correspondent of the Times at Wei Hai Wei, in a dispatch dated February 11, says the steamer Fu Hing, which is taking Chinese refugees to Shanghai, has brought the following account of the Port Arthur engagement:

The garrisons of the Port Arthur forts were absent from their stations, so retaliation was impossible. Daylight showed two Russian battleships and one cruiser apparently total wrecks. The Japanese attack was resumed in the morning when another battleship was disabled and beached. The fire from the forts compelled the Japanese to retire. The Russian fleet appeared to be completely demoralized and their torpedoes were useless against the Japanese.

The Fu Hing, which was flying the British flag, moved out, as she held a Russian permit to go. The guardship, however, fired three shells at her, which resulted in the wounding of five of her Chinese crew. Capt. Gray, commanding the Fu Hing, then boarded the guardship and obtained permission to proceed, after he had signed a promise not to divulge what had occurred. The Russians said they were very sorry they had fired on his ship.

Russian Torpedo Transport Blown Up.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 13.—A report has been received from Viceroy Alexieff saying that the Russian torpedo transport Yenisei has been blown up as the result of accidentally striking a mine at Port Arthur. The Yenisei sank and Capt. Stepanoff, three officers and 91 men were lost.

JAPANESE MERCHANT SHIPS.

They Were Fired Upon By Russian Warships and One Sunk.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The Japanese legation Friday evening received the following dispatch under date of Tokio, February 11: "Two small Japanese merchant ships, Zensho-Maru and Nakan Oura Maru, while on their way to Otaru (a port on the western coast of Yezo island), from Sakata (a port on the northern coast of the main island of Japan), were fired on February 11 by four Russian men-of-war off the coast of Aomori prefecture and the latter was sunk, while the former had a narrow escape. The Russian men-of-war are still seen off the western coast of Yezo island. They are supposed to be the first-class cruisers which have been shut up at Vladivostok and tried some time ago to join the main squadron at Port Arthur."

FUND TO AID JAPAN.

In View of the Neutrality Proclamation It Is Not Permissible.

New York, Feb. 13.—Consul General Uchida presided Friday at a mass meeting in Carnegie hall, attended by several hundred Japanese and American sympathizers, for the purpose of furthering the plan to raise a fund to aid Japan. Mr. Uchida announced that it was intended to raise $5,000,000. In view of the president's proclamation of neutrality he explained that it would only be permissible for American citizens to contribute for the support of the Japanese Red Cross society. Addresses were made in Japanese and English, and the Japanese anthem was sung with the utmost enthusiasm.

Two Hundred Killed.

The Destruction of the Russian Warship Varlag.

Tokio, Feb. 13.—About 200 of the Varlag's crew lost their lives when the vessel was destroyed Monday by the Japanese, off Chemulpo. The crew of the Russian cruiser numbered 570. Many lost their lives under fire, but a large number drowned in attempting to escape. No officer was drowned.

Many swam to the foreign men-of-war, which lowered boats and went to their rescue.

London, Feb. 13.—The St. Petersburg correspondent claims unimpeachable authority to declare that in the event of Russia being defeated in the far east, Germany will make a diversion in her favor.

Shields and her 3-year-old daughter in their home here on January 30, made a full confession of the crime in the Bluefield, W. Va., jail Friday. Williams gave up two watches and some clothing stolen from the Shields home. He was placed on a special train and rushed through to Richmond under a heavy guard. The train passed Roanoke at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon traveling at a speed of 40 miles an hour and Williams was placed in the state penitentiary for safe keeping.

ACCUSED TALKED IN SLEEP.

Laurence Earhart Arrested in Connection With Bedford Murder.

Bedford, Ind., Feb. 13.—Laurence Earhart, a stranger to Bedford, has been arrested, charged with having guilty knowledge of the murder of Miss Sarah Schafer. The suspect claims he is a native of St. Louis, but acknowledges that he has no reasons for being in Bedford. He has been here since the day of the murder, and Jacob Wallheiser, at whose home he has lived, declares the stranger has been overheard talking in his sleep of the crime. Earhart has approached persons on the street, declaring that he knew the assassin. He is tall, dresses well, and has sandy hair and mustache.

Paducah, Ky., Feb. 13.—A street car filled with passengers was struck near the Union depot Friday by an outgoing Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis passenger train, and ten or twelve persons injured, one, it is feared, fatally. There were about 30 persons in the car. The motorman, it is claimed, tried to beat the train to the crossing, despite the protests and warning shouts of the passengers. The train struck the car in the center, and before the engineer could bring it to a standstill, the engine had pushed the car 30 feet along the track.

Following is the list of injured: J. W. Helsley, deputy state organizer of the Woodmen of the World; may not recover. Clarence Knowles, superintendent of water power, Illinois Central; serious. J. H. Ford, postmaster, Benton, Ky.; bruised and cut. Abe Sloan, city news reporter; hands cut and leg bruised. Mrs. Mathew Phelps, Osan, Ky.; face cut, badly bruised. Terrel E. Mrs. Willis and James Willis will next be tried. Lieut. Johnston, U. S. A., retired, was assassinated in his bedroom by some one who fired a shotgun through the window. There had been a bitter feeling between the officer and the Willis family, growing out of a settlement of a large estate. Circumstantial evidence connected the Willis family, who are prominent in the community, with the crime, and they were placed under arrest.

HAVE YOU?

Have you seen anything in the papers about the tobacco fair?

Do you know when and where it is to be held?

Have you asked anybody to get samples for it?

Remember this is Maysville's fair. The success of this one depends upon our own efforts.

Will you hang your banners of welcome on the outer wall of the city?

At First Methodist Church, South—Rev. Chas. F. Evans, D. D., will preach at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow, on "Seeking Christ at Night," and at 7 p. m., a special sermon to young men. The Sunday school opens at 9:15 a. m., the league service 6 p. m. and prayer meeting on Thursday, 7 p. m. You are welcome to all of these services.

Five men and a woman who started across the river in a skiff Friday had a strenuous time of it. The ice and the swift current carried them down stream over a mile, but they finally reached the Ohio shore opposite Sullivan's point. The names of the parties could not be learned. One report is that one of the men and the woman had been called to Ohio by the serious illness of a relative. Another report was that an eloping couple was in the boat.

A bright and attractive musical entertainment will be the offering at the opera house Tuesday, February 16th. This will be the comic opera hit "The Chaperons." In "The Chaperons" has been prepared an entertainment of a light musical order, built on the lines of modern farce. The story of the play is a whimsical one, dealing with a search for two seals, one of which has been lost from a will, and the other from an aquarium. The scenes are laid in Paris and Cairo, Egypt, and the characters range from that of a New York subway contractor, played by John G. Sparks, to a female sleuth impersonated by Mabel Hite. "The Chaperons" has met with much success throughout the country. Seats are now selling at Ray's.

The Western Tobacco Journal has the following: "The Fifth Annual Tobacco Fair of Maysville, Ky., will be held on Feb. 20th. The Tobacco Trade of Cincinnati are vitally interested in the tobacco interest of this section, and should exert every possible means in having a large delegation from Cincinnati. Let some one canvass the trade and urge the members to show their loyalty to our large tobacco constituency from the Mason County district by a large delegation to the fair. Who will do it? It will afford a pleasant gathering and meeting of friends in the hospitable city of Maysville. Mr. John Duley, President of the Board of Trade, is making preparations to give all a hearty welcome and an enjoyable time."

Wood & Son's drugstore, corner of West Second and Market streets, and one box cured me of pains in my back and other evidences of a disordered condition of the kidneys that had given me much trouble for two years or more. THE STATE COLLEGE.

Business Agent D. C. Frazee Makes a Statement in Regard to Financial Condition.

Mr. D. C. Frazee, business agent for the State College, when informed of the resolution offered in the Legislature providing for the appointment of a committee of five to examine the books of the college, stated that the report that the college had $40,000 in bank was untrue. He said that it had been reported that of the $60,000 appropriated for the girls' dormitory $25,000 was unexpended, but that this report was misleading, as the college would need at least that much to pay for completing the building. Mr. Frazee said that what money the college had in bank was needed for current expenses and that the institution was in debt instead of having a surplus. Mr. Frazee said he would welcome an investigation of the books of the college. He said that Charles Meriwether, of Louisville, had just completed an examination of the financial condition of the institution.

President Patterson, of the college, also stated that there was not $40,000 in bank to the credit of the institution, but that there was $20,000 due from the State Auditor which the college had been unable to get. He also said that a full report had been made to the Governor, which was intended for publication, but which had never been published for some reason. He said the college books were open for investigation at all times.

Wm. Allen, of North Fork, has purchased the Adams property at Ewing, for $1,000.

The many friends of Attorney L. W. Galbraith will be pleased to learn that he is improving nicely.

Chamois LUNGS!

That may sound queer but that is what they are. One may ask how they could live if they had chamois lungs. It is a wonder to us how some people live without wearing one. It is essential to good health to wear one of our

Being made of one piece of finest chamois and one piece of best felt they will wear longer than those made of cheap chamois and red flannel.

Ours are guaranteed to wear longer and give better satisfaction than any other made at the same price.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES.

Reception Friday Afternoon by Mrs. Thomas R. Phister in Honor of Her Sister. Other Events of the Week.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Thomas R. Phister entertained with an informal reception from 4 to 6 o'clock at her home on Third street in honor of her sister, Miss Madeline Wadsworth. Mrs. Phister was assisted in receiving by Mesdames Basil Duke, Ralph D. Mmitt, William Stockton, James Barbour and Miss Sallie Whitaker; while Mrs. Hiram P. Chenoweth did the honors in the dining room in presiding over the tea table, with the assistance of Misses Harriet Johnson and Bessie Finnell, the latter of Chicago.

Some one has spoken of afternoon teas as "impossible functions where one goes late and returns early." Yesterday put this saying to rout, for without exception everyone invited came in at the hour appointed and remained until after the clock struck six. It was a most congenial and happy gathering enjoying each other singly and wholly. A pleasant interchange of wit and good stories over the tea cups, invited the company to linger for further sociability.

Fires burned merrily on the hearths, candles burned softly beneath violet shades, while bowls of these exquisite blossoms were used in decorations, with an extra boutonniere for each guest present.

The remembrance of this afternoon will outlast the fragrance of the flowers and if one can believe what they heard on every side there are many teas brewing to come, unless they are crossed on the way.

Thursday night, Feb. 11th, Mr. Wm. Myall's home at Mayslick was the scene of a most delightful stag party, given by him to his neighbors before he leaves for a visit to his daughter, Mrs. C. B. Blake, of Oklahoma. At 8 o'clock the beautiful dining room was thrown open to the guests, whose ages ranged from twenty-seven years to seventy-seven. It goes without saying that the dinner was complete in every respect. All the good things of the season were served, and the fine country cooking was par excellence. The table was beautifully decorated, the old fashioned candlesticks being used. Those present were, Messrs. A. P. Gooding, J. H. Clark, F. Latham, J. Latham, S. M. Mpall, Jos. Peed, Jonas Myall, E. Pogue, Ben Longnecker, S. H. Mitchell, W. H. Robb, Rev. Giddens, J. J. Yancey, W. Mathews, J. T. Thomas, Rev. Hornor, H. Hawkins, Dr. L. Y. Browning, L. Turner, J. Cliff, Jas. McGee, R. L. Fox, Prof. W. R. Chandler, S. M. Roff, Wm. Pogue, Dr. Davis, D. Raymond, Ben Myall, Wm. Robinson, Scott Collins, P. P. Parker, W. P. Dickson and Eneas Myall, Jr.

Mr. Myall and his most estimable wife have sold their farm and will spend some time here before leaving for the far West. It is sincerely hoped they will have a pleasant visit and will return here and settle in our midst, for they are people of whom any community may justly feel proud.

Whiskey and Beer Habit

PERMANENTLY CURED BY

"ORRINE,"

A SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS SPECIFIC

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer or wine eats away the stomach lining and stupefies the digestive organs, thus destroying the digestion and ruining the health. No "will power" can heal the inflamed stomach membranes.

"ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, improving the appetite and restoring the health. No sanitarium treatment necessary; "ORRINE" can be taken at your own home without publicity. Can be given secretly if desired.

CURE GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Mrs. E. Wycliff, New York City, writes: "ORRINE" cured my husband, who was a steady drunkard for many years. He now has no desire for stimulants, his health is good and he is fully restored to manhood. He used only five boxes of "ORRINE."

Mrs. W. L. D. Helena, Mont., writes: "I have waited one year before writing you of this permanent cure of my son. He took sanitarium treatment, as well as other advertised cures, but they all failed until we gave him 'ORRINE.' He is now fully restored to health and has no desire for drink."

Mr. E. L. Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I was born with a taste for whiskey and drank it for thirty-two years. It finally brought me to the gutter, homeless and friendless. I was powerless to resist the craving and would steal and lie to get whiskey. Four boxes of "ORRINE" cured me of all desire and I now have the smell of liquor."

Price $1 per box. Mailed in plain, sealed wrapper by Orrine Company, 817 14th St., Washington, D. C. Invoices and book—Treatise on Drunkenness—(sealed free on request.) Call and recommended by

He was returning from Maysville in a covered spring wagon, when his horse frightened at a piece of paper that was on the pike in the west end of Plumville and jumped across the road. The shaft band broke, and threw the shafts over the horse's back and the animal then ran until it reached home, running into a wire fence, breaking a wheel and upsetting the wagon, throwing Mr. Rogers and contents out. The horse wasn't injured and Mr. Rogers escaped with a few bruises.
